DESCENDANTS

This work is dedicated to the memory of Elizabeth Ann Dance Eanes

THE DESCENDANTS OF EDWARD EANES OF VIRGINIA. 1252583

Indexed - 70.00

This book is a list of some of the descendants of one planter of early Virginia. Obviously it is not complete, in fact, it contains perhaps a list of not more than fifty per cent of the descendants of Edward Eanes of Henrico and Chesterfield Counties in Virginia. It is regretted that it could not be made more complete. It could and would have been, had all of those, to whom this book should belong, responded with the information that was requested of them. As it is, it gives more information than is in the possession of the average American family. There has been little attempt to describe personalities, very little information has been written about the individuals listed. This would have made the book more interesting had it been possible. However, it has been a task of considerable magnitude to get, with as much accuracy as possible, that information here presented. It is being presented now for it is felt that it should become a written record distributed so that it can not be lost in the future, and with the hope that in its present form it may arouse interest among those who are able to add to it, and in that way become more complete in some future edition, done by some one more able than its present compiler.

The name EANES is unique in that every white person in the United States bearing that name whom it has been possible to interview, either originated in Virginia or has family knowledge that their ancestors came from the Old State. The origin of the name is unknown. It is not found in the very earliest of Virginia records. There were similar names in eastern Virginia prior to the time of Edward. Perhaps it is one of those names misspelled or is the phonetic spelling of some other name that was not very common in those times. It is significant that in the Bristol Parish Register the name of Edward is spelled YANES and YEANS. It is indexed as EANES as well as YANES. Perhaps Mr. Chamberlayne, when he edited that register, had some personal knowledge of the names. If one gives the French value to the Y in either of the spellings, one must pronounce the name almost identical with the commonly accepted pronunciation of today. It has been stated by different branches of the family that the original people came from the British Isles. This by the beginning of the twentieth century was just tradition, there is no one that is known today who has any knowledge of this except those who have heard it discussed by older members of the family. In one branch of the family, at least, there was a tradition that the family had a French origin. This came by word of mouth to the writer soon after the turn of the twentieth century and came from one who had known the family then for fifty years. Perhaps she had heard the question discussed by some old member many years before. May some interested descendant in the future go into this subject and find the truth by research.

It is regretted that there is not more information on the original Edward. Perhaps the old archives of Virginia contain more information, but the time and expense for a more thorough research have not been available. As far as has been learned, Edward Eanes was a farmer or planter on Swift Creek in Henrico, afterwards Chesterfield County, Virginia soon after the beginning of the eighteenth century. He perhaps represented the average farmer of those part of those times. That part of Virginia had not been available for white settlers for long before we find Edward living there. The tide of population swept over the falls and started for the piedmont regions only about the end of the seventeenth century. The Indians had given too much trouble and the difficulties of transporting commodities were too great. There were no roads and such paths as existed were fit only for use by pedestrians or equestrians. The means of transporting commodities was by water. In the larger or deeper streams, sail or row boats were used. In the smaller streams or creeks, flat boats, pushed by men using poles against the bottom of the streams, were the available means. If we look at a map of Chesterfield County, we find Swift Creek emptying into the Appomattox east of Petersburg and not far from the confluence of that river with the James. The Appomattox is navigable as far up as Petersburg. So Edward's location on the banks of Swift Creek was not a bad location at all. He could load his tobacco on a flat boat, pole it to the mouth of Swift Creek and there transfer it to a sailing vessel bound directly to London, England or any other seaport where the English were trading. Edward's land on Swift Creek was just east of the state recreational area of 1940 and close to the center of the county. It was just a few miles from the county seat. Chesterfield County was made in 1748 from that part of Henrico County which lay between the James and Appomattox Rivers. Edward and his family evidently witnessed the formation of the county and the establishment of Chesterfield Court House. Richmond was then a very small struggling town of eleven years and Petersburg was very little older. Chesterfield Courthouse was located almost midway between the two.

Edward and his family were members of the Church of England. There were few people in Virginia in those days that were not. Bristol Parish Register gives us this information rather definitely. That register is not complete, parts of it having been lost. Dale Parish was formed from Bristol Parish in 1735 and before Chesterfield County was made. After that time we find the Eanes men described in official papers as from Dale Parish. Unfortunately the Dale Parish Register has been lost.

It has already been said that Edward Eanes was perhaps an average farmer among his neighbors. There was certainly nothing to direct special attention to him or his family. They lived as well as the average farmer of Virginia of that time. The mass of people of Colonial Virginia were farmers of average means. A close study of history fails to reveal the preponderance of so called aristocratic English blood in Virginia that common talk sometimes tells us of. Virginia gradually produced her own so called aristocracy as her substantial people grew in wealth and found time for leisure. No claim to any aristocracy is made for the Eanes family. They were substantial people, gathered to themselves some property as their wills which are recorded will show, and lived at peace with their neighbors. Descended from Edward Eanes are all classes of people. In this book there are lawyers, doctors, ministers, educators, merchants, mechanics, bankers, laborers, farmers and other occupations listed. A person's standing in society has not been questioned for entry here. It has been necessary only to establish a blood descent from Edward. There are many Eanes known, some living in Chesterfield within a very short distance from the original homesite, who are not listed here because it has not been clearly shown how they descended from Edward. Neither has it been shown that these people came from any other Eanes. Their records have been lost.

While Edward contributed to every walk of life in our American civilization, he also contributed to the soldiery of America. The name appears on the muster rolls of the Revolution, but the greatest contribution of soldiers was to the Southern Confederacy. The muster rolls of that valiant army contain the name in no small numbers. An attempt has been made to note the fact that those listed here served the Confederacy when that fact is known. Also in the World War the name appears on many rolls. The name today has its place on an Italian marble cross of the Muse-Argonne Cemetery of Romagne sous Montfaucon, France.

Unfortunately that part of Virginia which was the original homesite became very poor agriculturally for it was a light humus soil, quickly depleted. With the outcome of the Civil War and the economics of the country going to the support of industrialism, there was nothing to be gained from agriculture in a poor land. Many of the Eanes families were wedded to the soil and made a valiant but losing fight in that business. Old Virginia was left in 1865 too poor to lead her people out of the ever sinking agricultural business when that business was being practiced on poor lands. The result has been that many of the family have been caught in the whirlpool of low incomes with all of the evils attendant thereto. It is hoped that this book may be an incentive to some to carry on with a little more energy and determination for it is clear that where there has been the will and means available, there has been a good substantial intellectual brain to carry them through.

EDWARD EANES OF CHESTERFIELD COUNTY VIRGINIA

AND A PARTIAL LIST OF HIS DESCENDANTS

FIRST GENERATION

EANES, EDWARD, It is not known who his parents were nor where he was born. Nor are we certain just how his name was properly spelled. We simply know his will was signed by Edward Eanes and that the Chesterfield records pertaining to him used Eanes as his name. The first record that we have of him is in the Bristol Parish Register when he and his wife, Mary, had their children christened. He may have been born in the British Isles and possibly was the original immigrant of his name to settle in Virginia, this is doubted. He must have been born prior to 1700; he died in Chesterfield County between April 4 and June 3, 1757. The surname of Mary, his wife, has not been found. We may see his will in Ches. W. B 1., p. 242.

His home and lands were originally in Henrico County, but that part of Henrico was used to form Chesterfield in 1748. The lands were on the Second Branch of Swift Creek not far from Chesterfield Courthouse. He must have seen the county formed and its court house established. Undoubtedly he took part in these activities for he owned considerable land. In his declining years he disposed of most of his land by giving it to his sons. These deeds are recorded in the Chesterfield books. This identical land was patented and recorded originally under the name of Edward Ends. See Virginia Land Books 12, p. 322 (1724-26) and Book 18, p. 261 (1738-39) in all 525 acres.

In the Bristol Parish Register the baptism of his children, Edward, John, Elizabeth, Thomas and Josiah is recorded, while in his will all of these children are mentioned except John, and in addition, he mentioned William, Phebe, Henry and Mary. From these two records we are justified in assuming that John died before his father. We also believe that the children mentioned in the will but not in the parish register were born prior to those mentioned in the register for William, the first mentioned in the will, was married and his oldest son was born just twelve years after the last baptism was recorded in the parish register. Edward must have lived some where else in the colony when four of his children were born or else they were recorded in that part of the Bristol Parish Register which was destroyed. Dale Parish was made from Bristol just after the last child was baptised in Bristol and after that the Eaneses were spoken of as from Dale Parish. The Dale Parish Register has been lost.

In his will, Edward directs that the land upon which he then lived should go to his grandson, John, son of William, unless his son, Josiah, died with lawfully begotten children. This would indicate that at the time of Edward's death in 1757, Josiah was either still unmarried or only recently married. Josiah was only twenty-four years of age at the time. Grandson, John, a boy of twelve in 1757, must have been his grandfather's favorite and in his eye, the most promising. Josiah did leave a daughter when he died at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania while there in the Revolutionary Army during that famous winter. He also left a son, Henry, who sold land which was a part of Edward's property.

Edward also mentioned another grandchild, Ann Blankenship, but does not say to which daughter this granddaughter was born. The fact that he singled her out for mention when it is known that there were other grandchildren besides John would indicate that she might have been an orphan.

The names of the sons are listed here in the same order that they have in the will and it is believed that this represents the proper age relationship. Phebe, Mary and the mother of Ann Blankenship were perhaps older than son, Edward, this cannot be proven and matters little anyway.

Note: It is impossible to tell at this time (1940) when the first Eanes came to America or to Virginia. There were Eames in Virginia very early. Eanes or Ends may have been mispronounced or misspelled Eames for the name Eanes has not been found anywhere in the United States except that the bearer claims that his ancestry goes back to Virginia. It has not been possible to make an exhaustive search in England, but those books that have been available have failed to reveal the name Eanes in England, however Eames is plentiful in both old England and New England. There has been a tradition told by an old man in Texas, George Washington Eanes, a son of Pope Dryden Eanes of Pittsylvania County, Va. to the effect that one of his great grandfathers married a girl who had been brought to Virginia for the purpose of marrying the young men in that colony. That this marriage was contrary to the wishes of his family for they did not believe the girl of good family. On account of this marriage he was disowned, and the family would have nothing more to do with him. That finding himself in this predicament he took his wife and moved away from his people and went to the frontier of the colony. It has been impossible for me to find among the sons listed so wilful a young man. Henry went from Chesterfield to Charlotte and he was the son of Edward from which all of the Pittsylvania family originated. He was not an outcast for Edward mentions him in his will. I have wondered if Edward himself was not the wilful young man. That he had been born in one of the eastern counties, perhaps Gloucester or New Kent, and on being disowned went to the frontier of Henrico on Swift Creek. Perhaps this will never be known, but I write this to stimulate interest hoping that some one may search for the truth some day. It is entirely possible that it was in such a move as this that the name got changed from Eames to Ends or Eanes. There was little education and much carelessness among the general run of farmers as well as the recording clerks in the counties of Virginia. We know that Edward did spell it Eanes.

SECOND GENERATION

EANES, WILLIAM, son of Edward and Mary Eanes, b. Henrico (afterwards Chesterfield) County, Virginia before 1723; d. before 1783; m. Jane _____. He was given land by his father on Sept. 6, 1751. (Ches. D.B. 1, p. 263) He is not mentioned in the Bristol Parish Register, but he received the first land given by his father and is mentioned first in the list of children in his father's will. It is believed that he was the oldest of the children. He is mentioned in the Simonson book with definite dates of births and deaths of his children. We know something of all of his children except Ann who married Gill.

Note: The Simonson notes that are referred to above is a little memorandum book which Mary Simonson gave me in 1925. It had come to her from her mother, Mary Jane Eanes Wells. This little book must have been written by John Eanes (3-1) for all of the entries in it are in one handwriting until 1802. After that time entries are in different hand writings. John died in 1802. He must at that time have been trying to do what I have done so many years later, make a written record of the people that he knew were of the same blood. A photostatic copy of this little book has been filed in the Archives, Virginia State Library, Richmond.

EANES, HENRY, son of Edward and Mary Eanes, b. Henrico (afterwards Chesterfield) County, Virginia before 1723; d. between 1772 and 1783; m. _____. He was given land by his father Feb. 6, 1756 (Ches. D.B. 2, p. 228) He is not mentioned in the Bristol Parish Register. He evidently had more children than the one mentioned here, but there is no record of them now. He gave the land that he had received from his father to his son, Henry, on June 3, 1768. (Ches. D.B. 6, p. 34) It is believed from this that Henry Jr. was twenty one by that time, and in this way the date of birth of Henry Jr. is approximated. Henry Jr. moved to Charlotte County to live for he afterwards disposed of the land that his father had given him and in the deed he is described as being of Charlotte County. At this time his descendants are known, and it is believed that Arthur and Edward, both Revolutionary soldiers were his sons and that they are the fathers of all of the Pittsylvania branch of the family. There is much room for work on this family.

SECOND GENERATION

EANES, JUDITH, dau. of George Traylor. The date of her birth is not known nor is it known to which of the Eanes men she was married. George Traylor in his will (Ches. W.B. 2, p. 206) mentions two daughters, Judith and Prudence Eanes as well as a granddaughter, Elizabeth Eanes, dau. of Thomas Eanes. We know from this that one of the girls was married to Thomas, and it is believed at this time that it was Judith, but because there is no proof, it is not definitely stated. Judith died in 1802 and her will is filed. (Ches. W.B. 6, p. 125) In it she does not mention sons, but does mention daughters and grandchildren. None of her children or grandchildren have been traced down except her grandson Daniel. It is to get him into this list that she, Judith, is mentioned here. She does give the name of one son's son, Thomas, son of Ephraim, but again the line ends there. It is unquestionably possible to find more of these people when one has the time and opportunity. The notes here are for the purpose of stimulating some one to go on with the work.

Note: Judith must have been married to Thomas or Edward, sons of Edward. There is a reference in Ches. O.B. 5, p. 58 Jan. 1772 to the estate of Thomas Eanes. Then we find in the 1783 census that a Thomas Eanes lived at that time in Chesterfield County and was the head of a family of nine. It is entirely possible that the elder Thomas was dead by 1772; that he left an older son, Thomas, who carried on and held the family together until they spread out for themselves later on. This Thomas may have been the father of Daniel. Judith does not mention a son, Thomas, but does mention a grandson, Thomas, but states that he is the son of Ephraim. When she refers to Daniel she fails to mention his father's name, but refers to him only as her grandson, Daniel.

EANES, JOSIAH, son of Edward and Mary Eanes, b. Henrico (afterwards Chesterfield) County, Virginia, June 13, 1733; d. in Pennsylvania during or right after the Valley Forge Campaign of 1777-78. He was a member of a Virginia organization and was reported as having died in their spring 1778 returns. He was given land by his father, Edward, Feb. 6, 1756 (Ches. D.B. 2, p. 233) and again in his father's will in 1757 (Ches. W.B. 1, p. 242). It is not known who he married, but his daughter when she was married, was living in Amelia County.

He was possessed of considerable property when this was made, Feb. 24, 1813 (probated May 10, 1813) and provided for all of his children by name, making provision for the education of those who were still minors. He mentioned his wife as Nancy, but his minor son, Richard Oscar, on his release of her as his guardian mentions her as Nancy Ann, this on Nov. 5, 1834. Her will is filed under name of Ann Eanes, in Dinwiddie County and was made Oct. 28, 1842. probated Nov. 21, 1842. In her will she mentions all of the children mentioned by Edward except the first three. them. The third mentioned by Edward, John Hill, and not mentioned by Ann was a minor and provision was made for sale of certain property on his reaching his majority, the proceeds from this sale to be used in the education of the four younger children mentioned. This almost certainly places John Hill as a son of Nancy Ann whose maiden name was Hill. Note also that her son Thomas was named Thomas Hill. Why John is not mentioned in his mother's will is not clear but it is possible that he died prior to her death. There was an adjustment of Edward's estate in 1824, Oct. 11, when James Howlett (Rowlett) and Ann were bonded for $5000.00 to administer this estate. It is believed that it was at this time that John Hill came of age and the property was converted to cash as directed in Edward's will. This would make John Hill as having been born about 1803.

In 1790 we find Edward receiving property from the estate of his father-in-law, Joseph Rowlett through his mother-in-law, Frances Rowlett. Frances, the wife of Edward was not mentioned at this time so it is presumed that she had died.

There are many mentions made of the activities of Edward in the Chesterfield records, but no bond for his marriage to Nancy Ann Hill could be found in either Chesterfield, Dinwiddie, Amelia or Petersburg. One knows that there were many marriages not recorded and it is entirely possible that the marriage occurred in some other place. Her father had property in Chesterfield, and she had a brother living in Richmond.

Edward may have had property in Dinwiddie as well as Chesterfield and it is certain that Ann, his widow, lived in Dinwiddie at the time of her death for her will was probated there.

At the time of Nancy Ann's death she mentioned three sons as living in a western state. Two of these sons have been located, James Gill at Blountville, Tenn. and Thomas Hill at Huntsville, Ala., but the third, William Henry has not been located at this time (1940). The two who have been located were both tailors by occupation as stated in the 1850 census of Madison County, Ala. and the 1860 census of Sullivan County, Tenn.

THIRD GENERATION

Note: To return to speculate on the son, John Hill. We find in the Chesterfield marriage records that a John Eanes married a Nancy Andrews in that county in 1828. We also know that this John left a large family, descendants of which still reside in Chesterfield. This John was listed in the 1830 census as less than thirty years of age and in the 1840 census as less than forty years of age. He is not listed in subsequent census records in Chesterfield. Neither are his children listed in that county for 1850. It has also been learned that this John's children did live in Dinwiddie for a time for one of them enlisted in the Confederate Army from Dinwiddie. One wonders if John was, after all, the son of Edward and Nancy Ann and identical with John Hill and that, after his mother's death in 1842, he went to Dinwiddie to live. He was not listed in the Dinwiddie County Census for 1850.

Note: Mrs. Willie Williamson of Petersburg, Va., says that there were William, Henry, James and John not mentioned above. She also failed to mention Thomas. It is believed that the source of her information has confused this family with that of Thomas and Mary Eanes Britton, No. 4-14. However, there is no information given in this book on 4-14 because no positive knowledge is available.

EANES, HENRY, son of Henry and, name not known, Eanes, b. Chesterfield County, Va., by 1747; d. after 1796 for he was living in Charlotte County, Va., Feb. 20th, 1796; m., name not known. He received land from his father in Chesterfield County for love and affection, June 1768. He is described as of Charlotte County when he returned to Chesterfield and sold that identical land to Sudberry in May, 1776. There are very few remaining records of him in Charlotte County, but he is listed as living there in the 1783 census, and again, we find him deeding to his sons in that county in 1796. He was a farmer. One of his descendants in Texas has stated that family tradition tells that he went into the Revolutionary Army with his sons. The official record of this has not been found, but the record is clear that his sons, Arthur and Edward were at Guilford Court House North Carolina with General Green in 1781. Perhaps there were children not listed here.

EANES, EPHRAIM, son of _____ and Judith Traylor Eanes, b. Chesterfield County, Va., before 1768; d. after 1810; m. 1788-89 Aggy Vaden. He is mentioned in his mother's will only as the father of her grandson, Thomas. This in 1802. (Ches. W.B. 6, p. 125). All the names that are recorded certainly as his children is this one Thomas, and with Thomas the line ends, however, there were a number of the family name living in Chesterfield at that time that must have been children of this man for they have not been fixed anywhere else. Likewise it is believed that it was Thomas, son of the original Chesterfield Edward who married Judith and that this Ephraim is really the son of Thomas. ~~These data are~~ put down here that there might be some written record for someone in the future to work out. The Chesterfield Census for 1810 gives five children to Ephraim.

Issue:

4-511 1. Thomas, b. before 1802.

EANES, 3-56, son of _____ and Judith Traylor Eanes, b. Chesterfield County, Va., d. perhaps prior to his mother's death in 1802; m. unknown. This Eanes is mentioned in his mother, Judith's will only as the father of her grandson, Daniel. At this time nothing more is known of him, and he is placed in here only to get a father for Daniel. It is believed that the original Chesterfield Thomas died by 1772. That he left a large family and that one of his sons was also named Thomas; that it is this son Thomas who is mentioned in the Virginia Census of 1783 as the head of a family in Chesterfield. Unfortunately all of the census figured between this one and the 1810 census were destroyed so that the family cannot be traced down. Thomas was head of a rather large family in 1783 and he must have been the eldest son living with his mother and all of his brothers and sisters. This No. 3-56 was either he or one of his brothers as it is also believed that Ephraim, 3-53, is one of his brothers.

EANES, HENRY, son of Josiah and _____ Eanes, b. about 1757. He lived in Amelia County, Virginia and he sold land in Chesterfield County, Va., which lay close by the land of the other Eanes cousins on May 6, 1783 (Ches. D.B. 10; p. 237). He is listed in the 1783 census as from Powhatan County. He appears on the Amelia tax records first in 1784. It is known that he lived at what was known as Eanes Cross Roads and afterwards as Morvin. This was not far from the Powhatan line and was on the direct road from western Powhatan to Amelia Court House. There has been a question as to which of Edward's sons was this Henry born. The deed made by Henry in May 1783 and recorded at Chesterfield October,

1783 for 115 acres to Jonas Akin, wherein he is described as Henry of Amelia County, has been examined by Mr. J. R. Eanes of Comanche, Texas. He, like myself, is of the opinion that this was the land given to Josiah in his father's, Edwards, will in case he died with lawfully begotten heirs. The description of the land is not clear in its boundaries. In the will Edward described the land as that upon which he himself lived. Also in the will, Edward stated that his grandson, John, son of William, would get the land in case Josiah did not qualify. There is not a deed of record made by John which might have been the land, so we must presume that Josiah did qualify. We know from the Amelia marriage records that Patsy, daughter of Josiah, lived in Amelia when she married Samuel Jones. A Josiah died at Valley Forge in Pennsylvania in 1778. Samuel Jones was also a Revolutionary soldier. To reconstruct the incidents in the life of this family. Josiah had a family in Amelia County consisting of at least two children when he was perhaps left a widower. He was a little old for the Army, but others were going from those parts and Henry was grown. Josiah went away and died in Pennsylvania in 1778. Henry being then the head of the family went to Amelia and gave deed for land that neither he nor his sister needed at the time. Samuel Jones evidently a friend of the family returned to his home in those parts of Virginia, found Patsy, the daughter of his old Army friend living with her brother, Henry, and he, Samuel, paid court and married her. We do not know who was the mother of Henry's children. We know that he married Mary Hanson in Amelia in 1789. This evidently was the marriage of a widower and a widow for he disclaimed his dower rights before she would marry him. Henry died in Amelia prior to 1828 for the August Court of that year appointed Henry P. Eanes as administrator for his estate and it is from this distribution of property that we learn the names of his children.

EANES, DANIEL, son of William and Eanes, b. Chesterfield County, Virginia, about 1775; m. Nancy ; d.
 There are many references to Daniel and his wife Nancy in the Chesterfield and Petersburg records, but none can be found that are dated after 1803. He was a merchant in Petersburg and must have been a man of considerable means. There is not a will filed for him in either Petersburg or any of the counties adjacent; neither is there a distribution of his property. The family in Alabama has a tradition that the wife of this man came from South Carolina for they say that the mother of their ancestor Edwin, was a South Carolinian. This may be true for there has not been found a marriage record for him in any of the Virginia records searched to this day. Then again it is possible that he lost his wife Nancy, about 1803 and moved away to South Carolina and married again there. Any way we believe that he did leave Virginia about 1803 and we know that a son was born to him in South Carolina in 1805. He perhaps moved into Tennessee after this time. The Monroe County Mississippi census for 1850 gave the birth place of Edwin as Virginia, and the old family Bible furnished by Mrs. P. R. Bush, Whatley, Ala. gave the birth place of Edwin as Petersburg, Virginia. That same census gave the birthplace of Robert in 1805 as South Carolina. The birthplace of Alexander has not yet been found. Family tradition says that they lived at Murfreesboro, Tenn., and that Edwin was married

We find him in 1850 census at Hunstville, Madison County, Alabama. Then in the Petersburg marriage records we find that two of his daughters were married at Petersburg, Va. We draw from this that Martha was born at or near Petersburg, they married and migrated to Huntsville, Ala. Thomas died there in the fifties and Martha returned to Petersburg with her daughters where they were married. In the Madison County census, Thomas is shown with the occupation of a tailor.

It is not believed that there were children to this second marriage. Herbert was in Cole County, Missouri in Dec., 1844 with his son, James Madison. He made a deed of trust there which was recorded in D.B. 36; p. 408, Amelia County, Va., Jan. 1845. He returned to Amelia before 1851 for it is clear that he left Amelia on Sept. 4, 1851 with the Ligon-Eanes caravan for Texas. Herbert was a soldier of the war of 1812. He served from Aug. 28 to Nov. 12, 1814 in Capt. Tilmon E. Jeter's Troop of Calvary, 1st Reg. Va. Militia of County of Amelia. This troop was attached to squadron of cavalry commanded by Major John T. Woodford. Roll dated Nov. 12, 1814 shows he furnished two horses for which he received $44.80 while he drew $26.66 for self per month. Also drew 91 rations for self and 35 for servant. This money was receipted for by him on Feb. 8, 1815. He had rank of "Cornet".

EANES, JOHN, son of

b. about 1805; m. April 3, 1828, Chesterfield County, Va., Nancy Andrews. It is impossible at this time to identify this John Eanes definitely. His descendants who now live around Matoaca, Chesterfield County, do not know, and their records, such as family Bibles, have been destroyed. He is compelled to be a descendant of Edward Eanes, 1-1, for his home was in the same county, the name spelled the same as Edward's and no other Eanes ever came into that county as far as the records reveal. He is placed in the Fourth Generation for others born at about the same time fell into that generation. He might have been the John Eanes, 4-33, who was mentioned in his father's will in 1813 as John Hill Eanes, but who was not mentioned in his mother's will in 1842. If he is the same John there must have been a rift between him and his mother by 1842 altho it is not known definitely that he was living in 1842. Anyway she failed to mention him or any of his children in her will. He was living in 1840 for he was mentioned in the census enumerations of that year for Chesterfield County. He was also mentioned in 1830. In the first of these enumeration his age was given as less than thirty years, and in the 1840 census it was given as less than forty years. There were many by the name of Eanes living in Chesterfield and Dinwiddie as well as other southern counties of Virginia who are not mentioned in this work. They are not mentioned because there has not been enough found about them to justify mentioning them. However, it is hoped that many of them may be identified at some time in the future and they will then be entitled to a place. This John is given a place because his descendants have been interviewed and they did everything possible to try to identify him. Mrs. Traylor, living near Matoaca in 1938, knew much about her people back to this John. She was able to give a clear account of all that she knew. This John's children will be numbered and they will be carried through the records. The number given John is purely arbitrary and for the purpose of identification only.

EANES, OTTAWAY OSCAR, son of William and Elizabeth Ann Britton Eanes, b. Chesterfield County, Virginia March 19, 1818; d. near Chula, Amelia County, Va., Jan. 13, 1899. He is buried in Maurys Cemetery, Richmond, Va.

When he was six years old, his father died and he was raised by Judge Cox near Winterpock, Chesterfield County. When he had become a man he moved into Amelia County and came into possession of a farm on the rise above Appomattox River about one mile west of Goodes Bridge. All of his children were born there and he lived there until in his declining years he moved to Manchester (now Richmond) where he lived at 13th and Decatur Streets. He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Fowlkes in Amelia County. When the Civil War came he was passed the military age, and his oldest son, John E., then just 18 went. Later in the war when the age limits were extended, he then, still older, went with Confederate Army. The War Department records under date of July 13th, gives his record as the following.

"A. G. 201. Eanes, O.O. (7/3/31) ORD 1st Ind. LLB/ORD War Department, A.G.O., July 13, 1931- To Major Richard H. Eanes, Medical Corps, U. S. Army General Dispensary, Army Base, Boston, Mass. 1. The records show that O. O. Eanes (Name not borne as Ottaway Oscar Eanes) enlisted April 23, 186-(probably 1864, also shown as May 10, 186-) at Amelia Court House, as a sergeant in Co. H. 1st (Farinholt's) Regiment Virginia Reserves, Confederate States Army. Muster roll for January and February, 1865, the last roll on file, shows him absent, on 15 day furlough, a private. His name appears on a register of Receiving and Wayside Hospital, or General Hospital No. 9, Richmond, Va., which shows that he was admitted March 19, 1865, and was transferred March 20, 1865, to Chimborazo Hospital No. 3, Richmond, Va. No later record of him has been found. 2. The collection of Confederate records on file in this Department is far from complete, and failure to find the name or complete record of any person thereon is by no means conclusive proof that the person who bore that name did not serve as stated during some period not covered by the records on file.

By order of the Secretary of War

(signed) Perry C. Ragan,
Adjutant General"

My grandmother, his second wife, often told me how she went to Richmond and took him from Chimborazo Hospital and to home. My father-in-law, Lilburn W. Reams of Powhatan County, Va., a young man of 17 in 1863, joined the same organization and knew him. He has told me of some of their experiences during the war.

I knew my grandfather personally for I was nine years old when he died. I remember him as an old man, respectful in appearance and demeanor, who kept me on my best behavior by threatening that he would give me to the Yankees when they came again unless I did behave well. I can recall when his son, John E., came from Mississippi to attend a Confederate Reunion in Richmond about 1896. This I, believe, was the only time that they were joined together after John went to Mississippi to live.

Ottaway Oscar married 1st. Feb. 24, 1840 in Amelia County, Va., Phebe Ann Webster, Alfred Webster was their security. Phebe Ann died about 1850. He married 2nd. August 2, 1855 in Chesterfield County, Virginia, Elizabeth Ann Dance, dau. of William and Sarah Dance. They were married by T. S. D. Covington. Elizabeth Ann survived her husband and died at Birmingham, Ala. in 1911. She is buried there. It was she who aroused my curiosity and inspired me while I was just a child to find the names and make a record of the family. She was a very proper person, beloved by all who knew her, and perhaps as near a perfect mother and step EANES, EDWIN, son of Daniel and Nancy Eanes, b. Petersburg, Virginia, Sept. 18, 1801; d. 1875; m. perhaps at Winchester, Tenn. in 1822, Isabella A. R. Givens who was b. in Kentucky, June 15, 1804, and who d. May 30, 1853. We find Edwin and a part of his family in the Monroe County, Miss. census for 1850. His occupation is given there as bookkeeper, age 49 and birthplace, Virginia. The birth place of his wife, Isabella was given as Kentucky, while the birthplace of his children older than eleven was Tennessee. So we see Edwin, either as an infant taken by his father from Virginia to migrate southwestward, or to make that migration later in life of his own volition. He married in Tennessee, perhaps raised a part of his family in that state and then moved on to Mississippi where a part of his family was born. It is said that his brother, Robert was one of the founders of Aberdeen, Miss. so it is entirely possible that Edwin moved there too to be near his brother or perhaps was associated with his brother in business. Anyway family tradition puts them very close to one another.

The latter census gives his age as 45, his birthplace as South Carolina and his occupation as merchant. It is said that he was one of the founders of the town of Aberdeen, Miss. Note: It is very possible that Nancy given as the wife of Daniel in numerous papers in Chesterfield and Petersburg, Virginia was not the mother of Robert or Alexander. She was certainly the mother of Edwin. The descendants in Alabama feel that the three boys were full brothers, but I am inclined to believe that Nancy died about 1803 and that Daniel went south and married again. There is no proof, but some of the Texas descendants are certain in their memories that Robert and Alexander's mother was from South Carolina.

She was a first cousin of General Tom Green of Texas fame. They left Amelia County about 1844, but did not arrive in Texas for several years as they tarried in Missouri while the Mexican War was in progress. They were in Cole County Missouri in December in 1844 for Herbert Eanes, then with them, made a deed in that county at that time which was afterwards recorded in Amelia County, Va. When they did arrive in Texas they settled at LaGrange, Fayette County. That was the home of General Tom Green at that time and it is believed that he influenced them to settle there.

EANES, JOHN OSCAR, son of John Britton and Lorena Ann Wood Gorman, b. Mississippi, 1846; d. 1924; m. in Arkansas, Mary Mollie Ashton Galloway, who d. Oct. 1906. Was; like his brother, a prisoner in Little Rock, Ark., in 1864, and was released on taking the oath of allegiance to the United States. He visited Richmond, Va., in 1913 to attend a Confederate Reunion and to search for the relatives of his father's brother, Ottaway Oscar Eanes. There was quite a bit of visiting at that time with all of the family in Virginia. I was not in Richmond at that time and did not meet him, however, there was some correspondence with him after his return to his home in Arkansas. It was said that he resembled Ottaway Oscar Eanes to a remarkable degree.

EANES, JOHN EDWARD, son of Ottaway Oscar and Phebe Ann Webster Eanes, b. Amelia County, Virginia, Feb. 20, 1843; d. Ripley, Miss., April 17, 1900; m. Margaret Ella Worsham in Miss. After the Civil War he went to Mississippi, married, and raised his family at Ripley in that State. At the outbreak of the Civil War John Eanes was a student at one of the academies then popular in Virginia. He was just eighteen and, like all of the young men of spirit in Virginia at that time, enlisted for the defense of his State. A communication from the Adjutant General, United States Army, dated August 24, 1937 gives his known Confederate record as follows: "John E. Eanes, a private, Co. "C" 23rd Reg. Va., Inf., C.S.A. enlisted May 15, 1861 at Winterham, also shown May 13th at Amelia Court House. He was captured July 13, 1861, place not stated, and paroled at Beverly, Va., July 20, 1861. He was then eighteen years old, occupation, student; nativity, Amelia Co., Va., height 5 ft. 11 in.; complexion, dark; hair dark; eyes, dark. He was discharged at Richmond, Va., Sept. 18, 1861. Re-enlisted for same organization August 15, 1862 at Winterham. Captured again at Spotsylvania Court House, Va., May 12, 1864 and imprisoned at Fort Delaware, Del., where he was released June 20, 1865 on oath of allegiance to the United States. His residence at that time was given as Amelia County, Va., complexion sallow; dark hair; eyes brown; height 6 ft. 2 in."

The 23rd Va. Regiment was a part of the old 2nd Corps, Army of Northern Virginia, and was captured almost in its entirety when they advanced too far on the right of the salient at Spotsylvania on the morning of May 12, 1864. It is well that they described him as sallow when they released him from prison for it was a sad story told of his plight when he arrived at home. He was so ill from emaciation and ulcerations from scurvey, lack of proper food, that he had to be moved about in arms like a small child.

Nov. 15, 1925; m. Sept. 1, 1852, Capt. A. B. Slaughter, a graduate of a military institute at Lexington, Ky., She came with the migration from Amelia County, Va. to Texas and was the diarist for that trip. A poor copy of her diary is in the University of Texas Library at Austin. She gives the date of departure from Amelia Co. as Sept. 4, 1851, and chronicles many of the adventures of the trip. They followed west on pretty much the route of the Norfolk and Western Railroad from Appomatox to Bristol, Va., then through the valley to Knoxville and over the Cumberlands to Sparta, Tenn.
On to Memphis, crossed the Mississippi there and to Mount Vernon,
Ark. Slept in the first house after leaving Amelia County on Nov.
9th. at Millersville, Ark. or Tex. They arrived at LaGrange, Tex.
on Dec. 26, 1851, and there settled among friends. She also tells of her marriage to Mr. Slaughter on the following Sept. 1st.
They lived at Big Sandy until Christmas, 1852 and moved to their home on Slaughter Creek, Mch. 10, 1853. The party of migrants consisted of Ligon and Eanes kin. William Walker Ligon was the leader. Herbert Eanes was with them. They arrived in Texas with 10 wagons, 42 horses, 5 carriages, 5 families; 26 whites and 79
blacks. The five families were William Walker Ligon; Smith Ligon; Warren Ligon; Watkins L. Eanes, her father and Herbert Eanes, her grandfather. She does not mention Robert Ligon as being a part of the party and it is very probable that he had come ahead of them. We know that James Madison Eanes was already at LaGrange. It is regretted that she did not tell us the names of each member of the party. However, her description of the rains, the roads, the difficulties that were overcome, a robbery, as well as the tent camp which they made each night, and which must have appealed to a young lady just eighteen, are much appreciated and constitute a much better picture than we have from many of the overland migrations from the east toward the west and southwest.

Lewis, dau. of Hugh and Elizabeth Lewis. Arthur Richard was a farmer and miller. His son, Hugh P. Eanes also writes that his father was a Confederate Soldier, and that the only notable feature that he accomplished as a soldier which remains in family tradition, was to slip through the Federal sentries one night and succeed in returning safely to his own companions bearing on his shoulder a hundred and fifty pound dressed hog. This must have made him a hero, indeed, in a company of half starved Confederate soldiers. It is also recorded that at the time the hog weighed thirty pounds more than Arthur Richard.

Use of the Index

In this book each blood descendant has been given a number. This number is known as the "Identifying Number" and is formed of one or two digits followed by a dash which is followed by other digits. The first digit or digits before the dash represents the generation into which that individual was born, the first generation being Edward alone. The digits following the dash theoretically represent the individual's place in the generation. For example 5-500 means that the individual is of the fifth generation and, theoretically, is the five hundredth individual of that generation. Only the blood descendants are given these numbers except in two instances, and those instances are explained under the description of the family. In the index the individual's number is given in the first column which is headed "Identifying Number".

The first mention of every person in this book is under some family. The number of the person under whose family the mention is made is given in the middle column. This column is headed "Listed Under".

Every person who has his or her own family listed, has it listed under his or her Identifying Number. That number, in such cases, will be found in the third column. This column is headed "Family Listed". This number also will be found in its proper place in the book just before the description of the family of the individual to whom it belongs.

"Family listed" opposite the name of an individual when he or she is first listed under their parents indicates that that individual likewise has a family description under the proper "Identifying Number" in their appropriate place.

It is apparent that there is much data pertaining to the Eanes and allied families that are not included in this book. Neither is it believed possible that so much could be gathered without mistakes. It is hoped that that which is presented here may serve as an incentive for a manifestation of interest on the part of all, and that both omissions and mistakes may be corrected in some future edition. To accomplish this there must be a central point at which all additional data may be gathered. As I have been the one in the past to collect and classify all information, I propose that I continue to do this in the future. I can accomplish little unless I have the assistance of all. It is, therefore, requested that all who read this book and find mistakes, and all who have knowledge of information not included here forward to me their corrections and information. It is further requested that I be informed of all marriages, births and deaths. Just a post card will do, but names should be printed.

Address, Lt. Col. Richard H. Eanes, M. C., U. S. Army, Care the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C.
